

Regional Trails and Loops

◇◇◇ The Lawrence Hopewell Trail is a 22-mile loop of paved multi-use trails and unpaved paths with some on-road sections. It connects to the D&R Canal near Brearley House in Lawrenceville.

◇◇◇ The Delaware and Raritan Canal (the D&R) runs north to New Brunswick and south to Trenton, where it connects to trails on both sides of the Delaware River (more of the D&R in NJ as well as the D&L Trail in Pennsylvania.) All are bikeable unpaved trails. The D&R is one segment in the East Coast Greenway, a 3,000-mile route running from Maine to Florida.

○ ○ ○ The Johnson Trolley Line is a 3 mile trail that is divided by Interstate 295. The north segment runs through Lawrenceville and is a bikeable unpaved trail. The south segment is a mix of paved shared-use path and bikeable unpaved trail that runs from Rider University into Ewing Township.

Mercer Meadows has many bikeable unpaved trails, mountain bike trails and multi-use paths.
